New Zealand Apprenticeship in Healthcare Assistance for Aged Care (Level 4)

with a context in Palliative Care

Programme overview

This is delivered as an apprenticeship that provides apprentices with Apprenticeship Advisors or Workplace Advisors providing pastoral care and support.

The Apprenticeship in Healthcare Assistance for Aged Care with a context in Palliative Care gives staff foundational and specialist skills to provide person-centred care to a person who has a life-limiting illness. Employers have flexibility to customise parts of the apprenticeship programme to meet their own unique workplace needs.

This level 4 programme leads to the awarding of the following qualifications:

- New Zealand Certificate in Health and Wellbeing (Level 3) with a strand in Health Assistance with a context in Palliative Care [Ref:2470-1].
- New Zealand Certificate in Health and Wellbeing (Advanced Support) (Level 4) with a context in Palliative Care [Ref:2779-1].

The programme includes developing and/or recognising the following competencies in your staff:

- Recognising and responding to signs of vulnerability and abuse.
- Demonstrating ethical and professional behaviour.
- Providing person-centred care under the direction and delegation of a health professional.
- Recognising and responding to change.
- Working collaboratively to support a person needing palliative care.
- Implementing person-centred approaches to support a person with life-limiting illness.
- Taking a leadership role in a health or wellbeing setting.

Learning and assessment resources

Online learning and assessments is done through Aka Toi, the Careerforce online learning platform. Access to interactive learning activities, theory content and assessments is available for this programme.

Targeted Training and Apprenticeship Fund (TTAF)

The Targeted Training and Apprenticeship Fund took effect 1 July 2020. This fund covers all apprenticeship programme enrolment fees until December 2022.

Apprenticeship Boost

The Government's $380.6m Apprenticeship Boost fund is designed to help employers to retain and bring on new apprentices as the economy recovers from the impacts of COVID-19. Employers with staff completing an apprenticeship programme may be able to apply for Apprenticeship Boost payments of $1000/mth for apprentices in their first year, and $500/mth for apprentices in their second year.

Supporting you

Careerforce is the Industry Training Organisation (ITO) for the growing health and wellbeing, social and community, cleaning and urban pest management sectors. We support employers to implement workplace-based training, enabling employees to achieve nationally recognised qualifications and deliver positive outcomes.

Every year we help thousands of trainees to get recognised qualifications and progress their knowledge and skills to improve their practice. With the right training programme, staff are able to contribute to their organisations and provide quality support to many people.

We are there every step of the way: from workforce development planning, to helping you establish a training culture, including training your workplace assessors, to providing rich and relevant resources and connections with the wider sector.

Get in touch with your regional Workplace Advisor:

Across New Zealand, we have Careerforce Workplace Advisors ready to help. Tap into their expertise to find a suitable qualification for your staff at different levels, and ask about the grants and funding available. We'll work together to develop your workforce.
